TAG the BAG!

"Preliminary field demonstrations conducted by KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY Extension Service indicates that alleatory horn and face fly control can be obtained by attaching ear tags containing pyrethroids to curtains of mineral leaders used frequently by cattle."

HEY JOE, THERE GOTTA BE A BETTER WAY

Livestock enticed by mineral or protein blocks will come in contact with the ear tags and will also dust themselves, providing the most effective fly control program available. DUSTACATOR provides a 12" dusting and tagging area. It will stand up to today's big rugged hands.

1. A DUSTER - 12 Foot Circular Dusting Area
2. A BLOCK FEEDER - Holds 4 mineral blocks in cage just under lid
3. A BLOCK MINERAL FEEDER - Rubber cup holds 100 lbs. loose mineral
4. A RUGGED 140 LB. LUNG CATTLE DUST FACE AND HEAD AREA, THEN SLING INSECTICIDE OVER REST OF BODY FOR YEAR ROUND FLY, LICE AND TICK CONTROL

Tests within a 120-day period, less than 30 days prior to shipping the last test. They would also have a test within 30 days after arriving at their destinations. This part of the regulations would certainly impact the market from out of state buyers, if it did not kill the trade outright.
Every certified herds of registered commercial cattle would have to comply with this multiple testing procedure, before they could be shipped out of state.

Stuph & Thangs

Progress has been so slow there have not even got on euro fire vaccine developed in all of these years and there are those who argue that about all it has accomplished has been a mere work program for vets. However, we've a red flag at Govt. Ragsdale's has never been a win-win proposition and this is why the mess is in the mess it is in.

Typical of how legislators work was the way the House Bill 701 got sidetracked in the Texas Senate. There were some legislators interested in wage scales for farm labor and also in interested in getting workmen's compensation for farm and ranch workers. Owners of farms and ranches have had some bitter medicine to take when they tried to furnish health insurance for their employees. It seems that as soon as they tried to let someone go they would come down with an aching back or some kind of injury, real or imagined, which was supposedly picked up on the job and the problem of trying to weed out the fakers was impossible and none of the insurance carriers after this kind of business very hard.

These folks said if they could get the votes for workers comp, minimum wages and various other things they would vote for the cattleman's bill. To date the result has been a messier mess than further it went.

Today the matter is being placed in the hands of a federal court as the cattleman seek relief from the Burrocratic grip. It is said, but true, that it looks like in most cases the federal courthouse is the only way to get the Govt. off the back of business.

At least it does not appear the Legislature will be back after us for a couple of months who they will probably have a Special Session, so during that interval we had just better relax and enjoy it. They'll be back, with Texas.

Ever blame The Editor.

P.S.: Uncle Dunk says one of those little oddities of America is that a 5-cent tax on gasoline can add up to a 20-cent rise in the price. Uncle Dunk says those Sun Set laws can have some far reaching results. For instance, it looks like unless something is done right away the Texas Employment Commission is out of business and if Gov. White vetoes some legislation that passed the Rail Road Commission is out of business, too! —Thaasal, Brother!

Outlook, Situation

all crop and a slight increase in the number of calves on feed. While many of the calves are likely to remain on pasture until fall, most of the yearlings are likely to enter feedlots this spring and early summer. Most of the cattle will be moved off wheat pasture to May and June. In addition, more cattle have been moved from wintering areas where feed conditions are poor to areas where feed conditions are good. The move is as grazing declines seasonally.

MARKETING WEIGHTS RISE Feeder marketings this past winter was the 13 major cattle feeding States reporting quarterly were 5 percent above last year's level. However, there were 11 percent more of these heavier cattle, 4 percent more steers, and 24 percent more heifers. Second quarter fed cattle marketings may rise by 600,000 head over last spring's level, but butcher marketings are not likely to be a problem, particularly if muddy conditions continue. In addition since much of the marketing gain will be from more steers sold of lighter weights, production gains will be held down.

Increased placements of heavier, baby cattle coming off pasture this spring and early summer will expand fed cattle marketings this summer and early fall. Feeder placements are likely to rise above year-earlier levels this spring and summer, before falling slightly below the large placements of a year ago this fall. Higher feed prices did the higher break-even prices when most of these cattle are marketed, along with the smaller calf supply, will add down the placement rate this fall.

Noted slaughter is expected to remain below year-earlier levels for the rest of the year. Beef production this spring is likely to be 5 percent above a lower level of last year and be about 10 percent above the first-quarter production. Production this summer may be about 1 percent, while falling 2 to 6 percent in the fourth quarter compared to a year earlier because the seasonal beef slaughter will rise more modestly.

PRICES MAY HAVE PEAKED Prices for Choice slaughter steers at the time of the week ending May 22 have likely peaked. Prices this past winter averaged $61.52 per cwt. packed carcass. As weather conditions improve, marketings and slaughter weights will both increase. Retail prices for Choice beef have risen from $2.37 a pound earlier this year to near $2.50 in late April. Meanwhile, supplies of competing meats have risen and retail prices for these meats have remained unchanged or declined. The farm-to-retail price spread declined over 9 cents from January to March. Retail beef prices are expected to stabilize near $2.50 in second-half 1983. Consequently, as beef and total meat supplies rise, fed cattle prices are likely to average in the $65 to $68 range this spring and only slightly lower for the remainder of the year.

Prices for utility cows at Omaha have also risen, averaging near $46 in April, well above last fall's $37 and this winter's $40 average. Cow prices averaged near $43 in early May when the spring grazing season was well underway. Prices may remain in the $42 to $44 range until mid-summer before declining modestly this fall as the cow calf rate increases seasonally.

Yearling feeder steer prices at Kansas City have moved well above year-earlier and last fall's prices of about $68. Prices averaged $67 this winter as demand for stealer cattle strengthened with the indication of a good 1983 grazing season and the PIK wheat grazing announcement. Prices peaked at $70 in early spring. The decline in cattle placed on feed this winter was likely partially due to the high feeder cattle and grain prices that pushed up break-even prices. Stealer demand for lighter weight calves is expected to remain strong through spring. However, marketings will increase this spring with movement of cattle off wheat pasture and out of many of the overwintering areas as grazing declines seasonally.

Yearling leader cattle supplies are 19 percent above a year earlier, and many of these will likely be removed from wheat pastures this spring. These cattle will be leaner and less desirable for additional grazing, particularly on the less abundant pastures and ranges. Many of them will be placed on feed. However, with the already higher feed prices and lower fed cattle prices, cattle feeders are likely to be cautious bidders for these feeder cattle. Thus as marketings increase prices are likely to decline. Given the existing feed costs and expected fed cattle prices this summer and foil, feeder cattle will need to be purchased at prices averaging in the mid $60's per cwt to break-even. Yearling prices may stay in the mid $60's for the remainder of the year.

Midnite Angus Sets June 11 Sale Date

Midnite Angus Ranch owned by Mr. & Mrs. Alfred McKnight will hold their Spring Female Sale, June 11 at 12 noon. The sale will be at the ranch, located on Hwy 927 between Walnut Springs and Iredell, TX.

Feeder calf prices are likely to remain in the $70's, only slightly below the strong spring prices, as long as pastures remain good. Larger numbers of calves marketed off wheat pasture may be shifted to other grazing programs since rates of gains have been poorer than usual. However, prices this fall may decline to near $70 as marketings of these calves push this year's calf crop rise seasonally.

John Bulling welcomes the crowd to the Extra Strength Genetics Hereford Sale, April 11 in Orlando, OK.

Special Hereford Steer Show Rules Are Outlined

Kansas City—The Sixth American Royal Special Hereford Steer Show is scheduled for Sunday, November 8, 1983, 12:30 p.m., in the American Royal Livestock Show arena in Kansas City.

The innovative steer class is considered throughout the beef industry as one of the most realistic approaches to steer shows. Increased interest from beef cattle producers and other major livestock shows has contributed to the show's success and has encouraged the continuation of this American Royal event.

The American Hereford Association, the American Polled Hereford Association, the American Royal Livestock show and several other community and industrial organizations share the sponsorship of the terminal show.

Entries are open to all 4-H, FFA, AHA or APHA junior members with a Hereford or Polled Hereford steer calving on or after March 1, 1982. Steers must be bred by a registered Hereford or Polled Hereford bull and out of a purebred Hereford or Polled Hereford dam. Both the breeder and exhibitor are required to certify the birthdate and ancestry of the entry prior to October 1, 1983. All entries will be subject to age and parentage verification.

Entries will be measured for fat cover at the twelfth rib and have a weight-per-day-of-age score calculated as they enter the show arena. Classes will be determined by age rather than weight, and live placings will not be designated.

Final placings of steers will be determined by an index based 40% on live placing and 60% on total carcass retail value-per-day-of-age.

To qualify for consideration to the final index, an entry must meet five minimum carcass standards, including (1) hot carcass weight of 575-900 pounds; (2) marbling score of slight or better; (3) carcasses with slight degree of marbling must have a minimum of .8 loch backfat cover; (4) carcass weight-per-day-of-age of 1.1 pounds or greater; and (5) USDA cutability yield grade of three or better.

A minimum of $4,000 in prize money will be divided among the competitors with $1,500 pledged to the live placings, $2,000 divided according to carcass index, and $500 divided among the exhibitors and breeders of the grand and reserve grand champions. Additional support totaling $8,000 will be paid to the exhibitors of the champion and reserve champion steers for purchase of the winning entries by area business organizations.

The special steer show, created to return practically to the steer show arena, has sparked much enthusiasm and support in the beef cattle industry. The competition in the show reflects the demands and needs of today's beef cattle business and the support of the cattlemen.

Complete details and application/certification forms are available by contacting the American Hereford Association or American Polled Hereford Association Youth Departments.

He also announced that the Show was donating $750,000 to its endowment scholarship program from residual funds made available due to the fastidiously successful 50th Anniversary Show in 1982.

"We are increasing the amount of our four-year, $6,000 scholarship awards to $8,000 each, while our one-year, $1,500 awards will be increased to $2,000

Next time you'd like to throw back more than you keep,

Beefmaster bulls are near perfect for cows that aren't. No matter what your cows look like—straightbreds, crossbreds or mixed—Beefmaster bulls give you greater uniformity and performance in the calves. You get more "keepers," more calves that look and perform alike.

It's simple to get those better looking, better performing calves. All you do is change the bull.

The $750,000 donation to the endowment program brings the Show's total endowment funding to no outstanding $8.4 million, since the program's inception in 1975. Twelve Texas universities have benefited from funds through this program, which are one-time gifts to the universities. Interest from the funds provides scholarship assistance to deserving students majoring in agriculture.

More than 900 students will receive Houston Livestock Show and rodeo scholarship funds in the coming school year," explained Gerhart. "This includes some 478 four-year award winners, plus endowment scholars, one-year awards recipients, graduate students and doctoral fellows. were the highlights of the moneyship meeting, where plans for the 1984 Show, including new events and rules changes, also were explained. Eight new members of the Show's Board of Directors were elected also.

New events for the livestock show include a miniature horse show, sanctioned by the American Miniature Horse Association, a dairy goat competition and a Longhorn Cattle sale. The show is again the site of the National Cutting Horse Association World's Championship Finals. NCAA action begins on February 18; other livestock and horse show events begin February 19; all events conclude on March 4.

Rules changes center on the junior livestock show market animal competition. "These rules changes will be implemented for 1984 show and are designed to clarify some existing rules, as well as strengthen the structure and relevancy of these market divisions," said Gerhart.

At the 1984 Show, a three judge system will be used in judging the market steer show, making Houston the first livestock show in Texas to use this method.

A new carcass contest is being implemented in the junior steer, lamb and barrow shows. "We will require all first and second place class winners in those three divisions to enter the carcass competition. Rules will require those top animals be of highly acceptable quality grade after slaughter," noted Gerhart. "We'll have top meat graders and scientists to make the final grade determination before any premiums are awarded. This emphasizes our show's continuing commitment to market quality end to the best return for the consumer's food dollar."

Additionally, rule changes state that a junior exhibitor found in violation of any of the livestock show rules would be barred forever from showing entry deadline. Elected for their first terms to the Board of Directors were Leroy "Boozy" Behner, George A. Ockmontrond, III, David G. Eller, James J. Jashe, William Mercler, Or. David E. Mouton, Bill Scholtz and Robert H. Smith, III. The Rodeo Parade is scheduled for Saturday, February 16, with the opening rodeo performance set for Wednesday, February 22. All events conclude on March 4, 1984.

A "little ear" on feeder calves has become an important marketing factor in recent years.

Some feeders are demanding that their order buyers select calves with some Brahman in their genetic make-up.

We think one of the best tools available to put a "little ear" on your feeder calves is to turn out a Beefmaster bull.

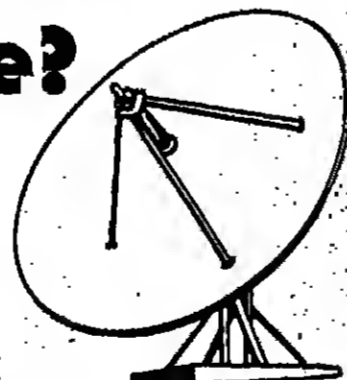

Contact the N.B.A. for a list of breeders who have breeding age Beefmaster bulls for sale.

AVOID CHANGING WHEEL LEARNERS FOR MANY YEARS

Perma-cups are molded urethane, more wear resistant than steel. Perma-cups will outlast leathers 10 to 1. The tapered design allows only 1/8" wear. Instead of 5/8" of a leather, much less friction for easier pumping reduces cylinder life greatly. Perma-cups must be used in a good or new cylinder, as they do not swell. Install urethane Perma-cups, Urethane Check-balls, and Urethane Pump Rod-guides, and don't pull them well for many years. Thousands are in wells past their life span. Release them in 3 years! All are available in standard cylinder and pump sizes. Write or call for our catalog. We ship same day order is received. This is our 33rd year serving ranchers.
